

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION AWARENESS

Dates: Flexible

Venue: Aberdeen/London UK, Duration: 2 Weeks

DESCRIPTION

The awareness of the dangers of environmental degradation is vital to every Society and organisation today; this course helps to bring to attention how governments and organisations can manage their environmental impacts and the ecosystem in order to attain sustainable development. The course covers wide range of current topics including, awareness about the environment and associated challenges, how to develop necessary expertise to address environmental challenges and fosters attitudes, motivations, and commitments to make informed decisions that could enable government and business organizations reap the benefits of environmental management.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND This is a 2-week course aimed at individuals, people in business, government and non-governmental organizations who want to improve their understanding of environmental management. This course will help to achieve environmental improvements and cost savings.

BENEFITS FOR EACH DELEGATE

- Pre-arrival Documentation including Visa Support Letters
- Assistance with securing suitable Accommodation
- Welcome Pack
- Course Material
- Access to Internet and BBC News Channels
- An Industrial Visits and Tour of some organisations in Aberdeen
- Lunch and Light Refreshments
- Course Certificate
- Complimentary Airport Transfers
- Complimentary CD-ROM of Environmental awareness course
- Complimentary laptop
- opportunity to meet wide range of business executives from different organisations and background

COURSE OBJECTIVE CONTENT

- Introduction
- Environmental challenge
- Environmental awareness
- Communicating environmental challenge
- Getting started with environmental improvement methods
- Developing environmental programme
- Energy management

- Going green- clean technology/ waste management
- Introduction to carbon footprint
- Conclusion

LEARNING OUTCOME

By the end of the course participants will have a firsthand knowledge of the environment and environmental challenges, and how to mitigate the challenges to the benefit of the society and organizations. Participants will learn about how to start an environmental programme to reduce environmental impacts. The course is ideal for anyone, from wide range of sectors, who needs a basic awareness of the environment and how to mitigate environmental impacts.